

Money Nobody Taught You: School Board Overview

A financial literacy series for teens · Series 1 · one-page summary

Money Nobody Taught You is a 15-book illustrated chapter series that teaches teens real money skills through a story they want to finish. All 15 books are ready now.

Why it matters

- Most students leave school without being taught how interest, credit, scams, inflation and banks actually work. Many states now require personal finance for graduation.
- Each book teaches one plain money rule through a story about a crew of teenagers and their uncle at a Texas repair shop. It works for students who don't like textbooks.

For teachers

- Read-aloud teacher guide, about 10 minutes a day, no prep. Topics fit common personal-finance standards: saving, interest, credit, inflation, banking and scams.
- Workbook, parent letter, every-learner support. Teacher and principal toolkits are free (mntyedu.vercel.app/toolkits); student books and workbooks need a school license.

Pilot at zero cost, then flat pricing

Example	Cost	Per student
Pilot one classroom	$0	Every school's first classroom is free with an access code from Paul. No card, nothing to sign.
Whole school (about 500 students)	$2,499/yr	Whole-school license: about $5 per student, unlimited worksheet printing
Founding school (first 25 schools)	$1,499/yr	The same whole-school license: about $3 per student at 500 students
District (3 or more schools)	$1,999/school/yr	Or 20% off list; buy 3 to 50 schools in one checkout

Whole-school license: $2,499 a year for every teacher and classroom in the building. The free first classroom needs an access code from Paul. Founding 25: the first 25 schools get the whole-school license for $1,499 a year. Districts with 3 or more schools: $1,999 per school, or 20% off list; buy online for 3 to 50 schools, or email Paul for a purchase order or invoice. Paperbacks are optional: $499 per 15-book set, or $29.99 for a replacement paperback (single book; lost or damaged copy? Replace any one book). No auto-renew unless you choose it. No hidden fees. Prices are reviewed once a year for inflation.

Target Outcomes

Goals we're working toward, not guaranteed results.

Outcome	Indicator	How it's measured
Financial Knowledge Gain	Pre/post quiz score growth	Class Scorer
Topic Mastery	Scores by topic: saving, credit, debt, interest, inflation, banking, scams	Class Scorer
Family Engagement	Students discuss money at home. Money lessons that go home reach further than the classroom can.	Optional parent feedback
Financial Confidence	Self-reported confidence with money	Optional survey
Real-World Application	Budget, savings or credit actions reported	Optional survey
Reading Engagement	Book completion and interest in the next book	Teacher observation
Student Participation	Discussion and workbook completion	Teacher observation
Equitable Access	Gains across reading levels and for students with IEPs	Class Scorer plus accommodations

Baseline set by the pre-quiz. Sharing any results is always the school's choice.

Student privacy

Your data, your choice: we don't collect student or school data. Sharing results, reviews or quotes is always your school's choice, and only with your permission. That includes the free trial. Nothing on these pages tracks anyone.

How results are measured

The same 10-question quiz before Book 1 and after Book 5. The Class Scorer turns it into a one-page Principal Report. One class over a few weeks shows encouraging signs, not proof. We make no outcome claims and show no reviews until real ones exist.

Who's behind it

Paul Blankenburg, author: a former oilfield instructor and frac mechanic in Fort Worth, who writes about money the way he fixes a pump: plain and useful. Books 1 and 2 are published on Amazon Kindle. Contact: blankenburg6@gmail.com
